

Markeal D. Dickey

Markeal Devonte Dickey was one of Tallahassee Community College's most distinguished and promising young alumni. Markeal epitomized service to society and love for his community by giving generously of his time and talents to many organizations.

At TCC, Markeal was a member of the Global Gateway Program, a writer for the Talon student newspaper, and an editor for the Eyrie art and literary magazine. He was also a member of several community organizations, including the Boys Choir of Tallahassee and Distinguished Young Gentlemen of America.

Many people benefited from the heart and soul of this great young leader and humanitarian. As one of Markeal's fellow students on the Eyrie staff said, "He left a strong impression of a young man with the ability to imagine a greater future for himself and those around him."

Upon receiving his associate degree in May 2015, Markeal enrolled at Florida State University. Tragically, he passed away soon afterwards. Although Markeal's life was short, he represented TCC's goal of service to the community and society well. Tallahassee Community College will always be proud to claim Markeal Devonte Dickey as one of its finest sons.
